REWARD OF HUMILITY.

The bird that sings on highest wing,
Builds on the ground her lowly nest;
And she that doth most sweetly sing,
Sings in the shade when all things rest;
In low and nightingale we see
What honor hath humility.

When Mary chose the "better part,"
She wisely sat at Jesus' feet;
And Lydia's gently opened heart,
Was made for God's own temple meet;
What rich reward is there in this,
Whose clothing is humility.

The saint that wears heaven's brightest crown
In deepest abjection bends;
The faithful day-lily lowly down,
The best when most his soul is bent
Nearest to God, his heart is bent
The nearest to humility.

Hydrophobia, its symptoms and treatment.

Mr. Raxton, a surgeon in the East Indies, reports a very remarkable case, which seems worthy of being related with the small number of dates that are now on record.

A boy, between five and six years of age, was bitten in 1874, by a bull-bitch that was subsequently killed. The bites were deep and severe, but were freely cauterized with fuming nitric acid, causing considerable loss of tissue. Carbolic oil was subsequently employed as a dressing. A month later he became unconscious, refused to drink, and was exceedingly nervous. Mr. R. finding him with saliva issuing from the mouth, suspected the worst, but ordered, as a temporary measure, the tepid astringent, and a diaphoretic mixture. Tranquil sleep and diaphoresis followed, but about one in the morning the patient awoke, screaming, had frequent convulsions, refused liquids, and foamed at the mouth. Thinking that as a palliative, cathartics might be usefully employed, five minims of the tincture were given, and a short sleep followed. This dose was repeated after an interval marked by screaming fits and saliva-spit from between the teeth. Deep sleep, lasting ten hours, now ensued. On awakening he recognized his mother—the first time for twenty-seven hours. His pupils were now intensely contracted. A third dose of five minims was given on the evening of the second day of medical attendance, and sleep resumed for eighteen hours. Pulse and respiration remained good all the time. From this point the progress toward recovery was steady and continuous.

Dr. Ewart, formerly deputy surgeon-general in the Bengal army, in the same number of the British Medical Journal (Nov. 19, 1881), states that little confidence can be placed in drugs after the symptoms have developed. He advocates cauterization as a prophylactic and as practiced successfully by Youatt in four hundred cases; and he quotes Sir William Gull, who states: "If I had to choose for myself, I would inhale ether and have the whole track of the wound destroyed by strong nitric acid or nitrate of silver." But Ewart places himself on the side of Sir Joseph Fahr, who says: "If I were bitten by a dog or other animal, even suspected of rabies, I would suck the wound, put in a ligature, inhale ether * * * and have the bitten part thoroughly cut out, and then cauterized with nitric acid or nitrate of silver, so as completely to disorganize any virus there might remain. Excision, he remarks, may be practiced successfully after the wound is thoroughly cicatrized."

Stand By Your Profession.

It is the duty of every journalist to stand by the rights and dignity of his profession, it matters not when and where they are assailed. If we do not respect ourselves no one will respect us. If we do not demand that decent treatment which is accorded to others we will not get it. The cause of one correspondent who seeks to discharge his duty in an honorable manner is the cause of every other correspondent. It is the cause of the entire press of free speech. When a newspaper sacrifices its own professional pride, refuses to defend its own rights, and toadies to this influence and that, to the loss of its dignity and the abandonment of its mission, it loses its claim to recognition among the more manly and respectable of its class. The Courier-Journal this morning gave new evidences of its presence in that miserable and humiliating category. —[Lou. Post.

Nutmeg trees bear fruit for 70 or 80 years, having ripe fruit upon them at all seasons. A fine tree in Jamaica has over 4,000 nutmegs on it every year.

They Weep (Get Over It).

"Do you know, my dear," she suddenly said as she looked up from her piece-work—"do you know that next week will be the twentieth anniversary of our wedding?"

"Is that so? By George! how time flies! Why, I had no idea of it."

"Yes, we have been married almost twenty long years," she continued, with something of a sigh. "You have been a good husband to me, darling."

"And you have been a blessed little wife to me, Susan. Come here! I'll kiss you. There!"

"I was thinking to-day—I was thinking of—"

"Of that sickly-faced baboon who used to go home with you from prayer-meeting before I knew you?" he interrupted.

"Who do you mean?"

"Why, that Bruce fellow, of course."

"Why, George, he wasn't such a bad fellow."

"Wasn't he? Well, I'd like to know of a worse one. He didn't know enough to chew putty, and then you was as good as engaged to him."

"Yes, George, but you know you were keeping company at that same time with that Helen Perkins."

"That Helen Perkins? Wasn't Miss Perkins one of the loveliest and prettiest young ladies in the whole country?"

"No, she wasn't! She had teeth like a horse!"

"She did, eh? How about that stoop-shouldered, white-headed Bruce?"

"And such big feet as she had! Why, George, she was the laughing-stock of the town."

"Not much she wasn't! She was a young lady who would have made a model wife."

"Then why didn't you marry her and all her moles and warts and mushroom eyes?"

"Don't talk that way to me! Her eyes were as nice as yours!"

"They wasn't."

"They was! I believe you are sorry because you didn't marry Bruce!"

"And I know you are sorry because you didn't marry that beautiful and accomplished Miss Perkins!"

"I am, eh? I thought you said I had been a good husband to you?"

"And didn't you call me your blessed little wife?"

Then he plumped down and began to read the mortgage sales and advertisements in the paper, and she picked up her sewing and gave the cat a gentle kick. These old things will come up now and then, and somehow neither side ever gets entirely over them.

Public Debt.

The United States, it appears, stands sixth in the amount of her indebtedness, or between Italy and Austria. France heads the list of nations in debt, Great Britain second, Russia third and Spain fourth. Our debt in round numbers is only $2,100,000,000 and that of Spain $2,600,000,000. The local debt of New York is nearly one-twentieth of the whole national debt of the United States. The great nations of the world are going into debt at the rate of nearly $500,000,000 a year, and the aggregate by the year 1900 will be nearly $33,000,000,000. The local debts of the United States, including those of the State Governments, are now $1,000,000,000, or just half that of the National Government. So that we owe about $3,000,000,000, or about $60 a head for every creature in the Union. For ease of remembrance we may call our debts $50 a head for the next five years, accounting for an increase of population and a reduction that is steadily going on of indebtedness.

Plugging Diamond-Drilled Hole.

It is no easy matter to plug up a diamond drilled hole from which there is a strong flow of water, frequently under great pressure. When a hole is to be plugged there are forced into it small bags of beans or flaxseed. The plug—made of dry pine and from 10 to 15 feet in length—is driven in after these bags and forces them forward in the drill hole. Also, a hole is sometimes bored into the end of the plug, which hole is filled with flaxseed. The flaxseed and beans are caused to swell to such an extent by the hot water that the hole is completely filled as though closed with molten lead. —[Virginia Enterprise.

Professor Doremus says that elephant milk is 100 per cent richer in butter than the milk of a jersey cow. But the worst of it is that an elephant is 100 per cent harder to milk than a cow, having a tail at both ends to slash around in a man's eyes.

A New Reason for Pensioning Grant.

One reason now given for pensioning Gen. Grant is that he is poor, and that he is poor because he gambled his substance in Wall-street. This calls to mind the story told of one of Gov. Claib. Jackson's Missouri Confederates. When the rebel Missouri troops reached Memphis in 1862, arrangements were made to pay them off for the past year's service. Many of the boys who had been honorably discharged did not regard their certificates of the State's indebtedness as of any special value, and in the vicissitudes of camp life had lost them. Gov. Jackson instructed the State Paymaster that where a man had lost his certificate, and the fact could be satisfactorily shown, payment should not be withheld. Among those who presented themselves at the office of the Paymaster was a Central Missourian without the proper document proving his service to the cause. He was questioned as to where his certificate was. He had lost it. How had he lost it? Lost it, he promptly replied, playing poker. —[St. Louis Republican.

Murdering Names.

If the bearers of a name choose to give it an eccentric pronunciation, they have a right to do so, but they can not complain if it is mispronounced by strangers. Thus, the Virginia Taliaferros and the Kentucky Valandighams call themselves respectively the Tollivers and Flanagan, but no uninitiated person would ever think of following their example. The queerest case of the kind is that of the Enright family of Virginia, whose name is pronounced Darby. That has long remained a mystery, but a correspondent of the Boston Transcript offers a "probable explanation" in the fact that some families named Enright and Enraght emigrated from Ireland to this country several generations ago. They belonged to the much ridiculed sect of the Darbyites, and people often hallowed after them, "Go along, you old Darby." It seems quite likely that the nickname became confounded with the somewhat modified proper name. If this is not a solution of the mystery, it will be difficult to find another. —[Cincinnati Gazette.

The Editor's Life.

There are few men who can edit a newspaper well. It is one of the hardest things in the world to do year in and year out. A great many bright minds try it, and do amazingly well for a short time; but the little, red-streaked, hot ideas run out very soon, and it becomes a terribly irksome thing to write a sufficient quantity and have it regularly ready at the exact time, whether you "feel like it" or not. He who writes for the public must always be at his level best, for he is always on the stage "in black and white," and will be judged just as if he never had any ache or pain, or a dull head. —[Louisville Democrat.

Consequences.

The reflecting citizen cannot fail to have noticed how downward and utterly disatisfactory has been the course of American politics since Mrs. Tilden was elected out of the Presidency. Assassination and all possible disturbances were the natural outcome of the inquiry following the election of 1876. The only wonder is that the wreck of matter and the crush of world, from a republican-democratic sense, did not follow that prime and memorable injustice. —[Herald of Los Angeles.

Gov. Blackburn ought to be impeached for the obstruction of the law and the immunity he has given to crime throughout Kentucky. His administration now forms the blackest page in Kentucky's history. His peculiar sympathy seems to run out after the contemptible scoundrels who sell liquor to minors, thereby destroying the peace of families and the future hope of church, State and society. —[Auburn Courier.

Just one, murmured he, involuntarily drawing closer to the luscious lips that smiled upon him with such bewitchingness, while his own quivering in an agony of expectant anticipation. "So I notice," replied she coolly, glancing at the clock, "and time for you to turn up your coat collar and shut the street door from the outside."

Mr. Clifford F. Hudson, of Elmira, N. Y., says: "My aged mother suffered greatly from poor digestion and general debility. She was always complaining of her liver, and her bowels often pained her greatly. She was very weak. I bought her a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, and she says, 'It goes right to the spot, Clifford. She has greatly improved, since using this excellent medicine.'"

GRAND OPENING OF THE -KENTUCKY- ONE-PRICE CLOTHING HOUSE,

Bought for Spot Cash, at an Immense Reduction, and I offer the same at prices which cannot fail to convince the public that I OFFER THE GREATEST BARGAINS!

Ever offered in this or any other town. This is no bankrupt sale to run off cheap goods. I come to stay and build up a trade by treating every one politely and dealing fairly and squarely with all. No misrepresentation. Every article as represented and satisfaction guaranteed. All I ask is a fair trial. D. KLASS.

The Cricket's Chirp and the Temperature.

The rate of the cricket's chirp varies with the temperature, becoming faster as the latter rises. Recently a writer in the Salem (Mass.) Gazette gave the following rule for estimating the temperature of the air by the number of chirps made by crickets per minute: "Take seventy-two as the number of strokes per minute at 60° temperature, and for every four strokes more add 1°; for every four strokes less deduct the same." In a letter to the Popular Science Monthly, Margarette W. Brook gives an account of observations she made with a view to testing this rule on twelve evenings, from September 30 to October 17. Her column of temperatures, as computed by the rate of vibration, shows a close agreement with that of temperatures recorded by the thermometer. —[Nature.

An amateur was chaffing about the price of a table service in Dresden china. "But it is much too dear! There is not a single piece in it which has not been mended." The dealer has his answer pat. "My dear sir," he says, "why, that is the very thing that makes the set valuable. This is the table service that Bonaparte broke when he kicked over the preliminaries at Leoben! The amateur, a little taken aback by this thrust, says: "Are you perfectly sure of that?" "Certainly I am. Would you like the same service without its being mended? I have that also."

There seems to be a rage just now among the people who are afflicted with dyspepsia to drink a glass of hot water before breakfast. Astonishing cures are reported; but, on the whole, it seems that the dyspeptics who are loudest in their praises of the hot water cocktail are the ones who have not yet tried it. They are about equally divided with the people who praise the juice of two oranges in the morning. The man who praises the juice of apples before breakfast and all the time lives numerously in New Jersey.

It is rumored that Emma Abbott spends most of her time now wondering whether it will be a boy or a girl. It seems never to have occurred to her that it may be a duet. At any rate, it will be the best advertising dodge the gentle little prima donna ever became a party to. —[Denver Tribune.

A package in a basket was recently left on the door-step of a cautious Monroe street woman, who having no desire to adopt a foundling, took the basket to the police station and there found it contained a fourteen-pound turkey. She adopted it. —[Peoria Transcript.

Six children of John Vonderau were recently buried in one grave at Riverside Cemetery, Cleveland. They all died of diphtheria.

When George Colman the younger was asked if he knew Theodore Hook, he said, "Oh, yes; Hook and eye are often together."

The ready relief given to asthma and summer colds by Brown's Iron Bitters is so satisfactory that many speak of it as a complete cure.

Elections will occur in twenty-three States this year. Rhode Island will lead off next month with an election for Governor. State officers and a Legislature. Oregon comes next and in June will elect the same kind of officers, and the democrats there are so certain of victory, that they have called a convention in advance of the election. In this State an Appellate Clerk will be elected in August, together with a full list of county officers. In the same month Alabama and Tennessee choose Governors. In September, Maine will elect a Governor and Legislature, which is to name the successor to Mr. Fry, who took Mr. Blaine's place in the Senate when he was made Secretary of State. A few minor officers will be elected in Ohio and Iowa in October; in Colorado will be chosen a Governor and a legislature, and in West Va., a legislature which will name a successor to U. S. Senator Davis. In November, Governors will be elected in Connecticut, Delaware, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Texas and New York, while Illinois in the same month will choose a General Assembly, whose duty it will be to elect David Davis or some other man, U. S. Senator. It will be seen that this is not so much of an "off year" as it might be, and it behooves the democratic party, especially, to be up and doing for the elections will in a measure preface the National election of 1884.

THIRTEEN minutes before the hour set for the hanging of Ike Turner at Lexington, Friday, and after the wretched man had been dressed and prepared for the gallows, a telegram was received by the Sheriff from the Clerk of the Court of Appeals, stating that it had granted Turner a hearing, and authorizing him not to proceed with the performance. It seems that Turner's lawyers confident that Blackburn would pardon or reprieve the man, made no attempt to take the case to the Court of Appeals at the proper time, but waited until the last moment on the Governor, who refused to interfere (strange to say). The Court was then appealed to and a stay of execution was issued until an examination could be made in the case. It is very remarkable considering the very extenuating circumstances of the murder that Blackburn should have become so suddenly obdurate. The negro had killed another for repeatedly beating his mother, the last time with a club near unto death, on the day of the murder. There are hundreds of cases that have been pardoned, not a tenth as deserving as this, and Blackburn's refusal to reprieve can be accounted for only by supposition that he was not in the right mood when appealed to, or that the negro did not have the necessary $2 to satisfy the Assistant Secretary.

The fact that another convict has out of his hand to keep from working in the hemp department of the penitentiary, gives those who think that a prisoner should repose on beds of downy ease, another argument in favor of abolishing the hemp hatching department. That it is a terrible place, all must admit, but we see no reason for the Legislature to attempt to make a convict a greater privileged character than a poor man, whose means compels him to work in hemp factories or any where else that he can obtain employment.

An exchange says that "Governor Churchill, of Arkansas, is a defaulter to that State to an amount estimated at from $25,000 to $75,000. He was formerly State Treasurer, and is a brother-in-law of Gov. Blackburn, of Kentucky." This is no sign though that Blackburn is corrupt. His dread of an investigation, though, and his button-holing members of the House to get them to vote against such a resolution is proof to a great number of members that it were best for him that the Augean stable's remained uncleaned.

THE Congressional escort to the remains of President Garfield from Washington to Cleveland, conveyed in a special car, cost the government about $10,000. Of the amount $2,000 was for champagne, whisky, brandy and cigars, and the glove bill was sufficient to buy every member in Congress a pair of the nicest kids. Newspaper men were excluded from the car, that the disgraceful orgies might not be reported.

JUDGE BLANCHARD's nomination hangs fire because some of the members of the Judiciary Committee question the advisability of placing on the bench, a man old enough to be retired from it.

LAST Tuesday we gave extracts from a letter published in the Washington Post, which was particularly caustic on the life and services of Garfield. The demand for the name of the man who would so terribly assail the memory of the dead, was so great that the Post had to yield to it, and on yesterday published a long letter from William Brown, of Nicholasville, Ky., who admits that he was the author of it, and claims that he wrote it not to attack the dead, but to defend the living; in other words, he did not want Garfield's virtues extolled at the cost of Gen. Rosecrans, against whom Garfield acted as traitor.

It seems that the Legislature passed a resolution in its session of '79 & '80, calling on the Secretary of State to furnish a list of the pardons and remissions of fines, but by claiming that the work would require a great length of time and occasion a vast amount of extra work, the Assistant Secretary bluffed out of the thing. He can't do it this time, as a bill allowing him to employ as many clerks as necessary to enable him to make a full report has passed. Let the light be turned on with full electric power. A CONGRESSIONAL district to be composed of Boyle, Anderson, Casey, Garrard, Jessamine, Lincoln, Madison, Marion, Mercer, Washington and Woodford counties, is favored by some of the Committee on Apportionment. This would put three of the best Congressmen now serving the State in the same district, viz: Proctor Knott, Joe Blackburn and Phil Thompson. It is not likely however, that such a district will be made, as the State could not afford to retire from the turf two at least of such good men.

The Winchester Democrat man is as much opposed to fighting as a Quaker, and in his late paper prints a very fine article against the custom of settling every controversy with a knock down or by powder and ball. The theory is good but it can never be brought into practice in Kentucky as long as men are allowed to go unpunished for murders committed on the filiciest pretexts.

THE Louisville Commercial says that from all it can find out "the amount of fines and forfeitures repaid and remitted by the Governor will foot up to over $1,000,000, or it may run up to $1,500,000." If the Legislature discovers that this is a fact, it should promptly impeach him.

CURRENT COMMENT.
NEW, EVEN IN KENTUCKY.
It is an edifying spectacle to see the Governor of Kentucky violating laws he is sworn to defend. A Governor with a club, beating all who dare criticize him, is a new sight even in Kentucky. Lexington Republican.

NINE-NINETY TOO MUCH.
The New York Independent paid ten dollars a line, in addition to cable charges, for TENNYSON's new poem, "The Charge of the Heavy Brigade." We think the Independent paid just nine dollars and ninety cents a line too much. Hop New Era.

NOT A CORPORAL'S GUARD.
It is a time for plain speaking and it ought to be understood that if the democratic party in Kentucky were cut down to include only those who approve all that Gov. Blackburn has done in the exercise of the pardoning power, there would not be much of it left. (Lexington Standard.)

A NASTY MIXTURE.
Mr. Waterson is a very brilliant editor, but he can neither project nor direct a campaign which would triumph in the United States. His speech at the Iniquity Banquet was a mixture of toadyism to Republicans and of political opinions which Jackson spent his life in combating. (St. Louis Republican.)

RELIEVE TWO, FORBID THREE.
The conduct of the Executive and his fraternal Secretary of State will, without doubt, relieve the two for the future. Positions of honor will know them no more. And if it does not seriously damage the Congressional brother, it will tend to dampen the ardor of his supporters to some extent—and he will feel the rocks rough along the way to Jordan. (Union Journal.)

NEEDED INVESTIGATION.
The nepotism of the Blackburn administration, accompanied as it is by outbursts of passion, threatened violence to personal safety and freedom of the press, backed by extravagance, and too free and total mistaken exercise of the pardoning power and the remission of fines, needed investigation before the Commercial started up this row by demanding an inspection of the executive journal. (Louisville Democrat.)

LEGISLATIVE.
—Nothing done, as usual, in the Legislature, Saturday.
—The House has amended the charter of Brush Creek Church in this county.
—Mr. Donaghy wants the town of Union City—alias Gore, alias Goresburg, alias Danville Junction, chartered.
—The House bill making persons convicted of felony or under indictment incompetent as jurymen has passed the Senate.
—Mr. Morrison's resolution to adjourn on the 7th of April, resulted in its being carried by a vote of 38 to 32. Hansford voted nay.
—A bill appropriating $4,500 for the benefit of the Institution for the Education and Training of Feeble-minded children passed the House.
—Senate bill to appropriate $15,000 for the purpose of purchasing grounds and erecting a building for a manufacturing establishment for the Blind, passed the House.

—A resolution was passed allowing the Secretary of State to employ clerks as he wants to enable him to comply with the House resolution in regard to fines and respite.
—A bill passed the House allowing Circuit Clerks ten per cent. on all fines and forfeitures, their fees not to exceed $750 a year; all over that amount must be turned over to the Auditor.

—The bill to punish minors for misrepresenting their age to procure liquor has passed both Houses at Frankfort. In addition to the punishment of minors the bill provides that if a barkeeper sells liquor to a minor over eighteen years of age, believing him to be of lawful age, he shall not be liable to the penalty now prescribed by law.

—Mr. Fulton offered a resolution which was adopted, that hereafter when a motion is made to adjourn, the clerk shall state in his journal the hour of the day when the motion was made. He thinks much of the inexcusable waste of time and money is caused by perille and inopportune motions to adjourn, and he wants to, in some measure, lessen the evil.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—Chicago has 75,000 petitioners for Sergeant Mason's pardon.

—Allen & Co's distillery at Lexington, burned Monday. Loss, $7,500.

—The Crystal Palace Theatre at Versailles, France, burned Friday. Loss, 1,000,000 francs.

—The U. S. Senate has passed a bill to appropriate $100,000 for the public building at Frankfort.

—The famous Tennessee trotting stallion Blackwood, Jr., has been sold to Commodore Kilgus of St. Paul, for $25,000.

—The Governor of Tennessee has called a special session of the Legislature to meet April 9th, to re-district the State, &c.

—The House Committee on Coinage and Weights has agreed to report favorably Allen's bill for a branch mint at St. Louis.

—Jay Gould has purchased sixteen lots on Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets, near Eighth avenue, New York city, for $1,000,000.

—Miss Emma Keys, daughter of the ex-P. M. General, was thrown from her buggy at Chattanooga, and so severely injured that she will die.

—Governor Crittenden, of Missouri, advertises for sale at St. Louis, October 4, the Hannibal and St. Joe Railroad for $200,000 interest on $3,000,000 bonds.

—Five boys, who had excavated a playhouse in an embankment at St. Joseph, Missouri, were crushed and smothered to death by about seventeen feet of earth falling on them.

—A handsome suit has been described by the various departments at Washington for Sgt. T. Mason's family. Petitions for Executive clemency are pouring in from all quarters.

—The Garfield Monument Committee has issued a circular appealing for additional subscriptions to the fund in its treasury. It asks for $250,000. Over $100,000 has already been given.

—One of the condemned murderers, Daniel Trontman, in Pennsylvania, has written to Gov. Hoyt stating that he alone committed the crime and asking that the sentence of his brother be commuted to imprisonment for life.

—It is positively stated that an application for a writ of habeas corpus will be made in New York, that and Mason will be released. A proposition has been made for a popular subscription to place Mrs. Mason and child beyond want.

—The Secretary of War estimates the number of persons detained at $5,000, as follows: Missouri, 2,900; Illinois, 2,000; Kentucky, 8,000; Tennessee, 5,000; Mississippi, 30,000; Arkansas, 20,000; Louisiana, 25,000. Total distributed, 713,000. The appropriation made is sufficient to purchase 800,000 rations of a substantial kind.

—Information from that inaccessible point, Dunville, Casey county, says that last week while Miss Ferrill, Mrs. W. Roberts her three children, Mrs. Buller and her grand-child, were attempting to cross Green River in a canoe, it was capsized, drowning two of Mrs. R's children, and the rest barely escaping with their lives.

—A Washington dispatch says, "That President Arthur will complete his Cabinet this week by nominating Wm. E. Chandler to be Secretary of the Navy, Postmaster-General Howe will not be transferred to the Interior Department. The person selected for that place is a Western man, whose name has never yet been mentioned for any Cabinet place."

—Mr. Bingham's bill to regulate postmasters makes those officials who render the Department a false register, record, certificate or other report of arrivals and departure of mails, or know of mail contractors or carriers' delinquencies and fail to report them promptly, liable to be fined from $100 to $1,000 and imprisoned two years. Postmasters who aid violators of postal laws in any way are also to be severely punished.

—W. A. Cook, of the Star-Republic prosecution, says he has resigned, because he would have been frozen out, having no encouragement from Arthur's administration to proceed. Bliss, of the prosecution, he says, bought the National Republican of Brady, and kept on it all of the Star-Republic men's friends. Cook has no confidence in Bliss. He says the present administration does not manifest the same earnestness in the prosecution of the windows as that of General Garfield, with whom he (Cook) had a long interview three nights before the assassination.

—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chesapeake and Ohio R. R. held at Richmond, Va., President Huntington made a report covering the operations of the road the past fifteen months. During that period the extension of the main line to deep water of the Chesapeake bay at Newport News and connection with the Southwestern system of railroads by means of the Elizabethtown, Lexington and Big Sandy road have been made, two events which will have a very important bearing upon the future operations of the company, opening, as they do, continuous connection with the largest Western cities of the Ohio valley. The general tenor of President Huntington's report shows a prosperous condition of the company. Gross earnings for fifteen months, $3,375,000; expenses, $2,743,430; net earnings, $632,577. A resolution was adopted authorizing the Directors to construct a branch road from Newport News to Old Point Comfort. The old Board of Directors was unanimously re-elected.

GARRARD COUNTY.

—Landrath's Garden Seeds, in bulk and paper, fresh and genuine, at Geo. D. Burdett & Co's.

—H. C. Kaufman is a candidate for reelection for County Attorney of Garrard county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

—Geo. D. Burdett & Co., of Lancaster offer canned goods at the following low prices: Yarnmouth Corn, per dozen, $1.80; 3 lb. standard Tomatoes, $1.75; 2 lb. do, $1.60; 3 lb. Keneset Peaches, $3.25; 2 lb. do, $2.50; Fine Apples, Apples, &c., at equally low figures. Give them a call.

BRYANTSVILLE.

—We have two excellent schools now. Attendance very large.

—The Evangelist, Rev. Geo. Dunlap, preached at the Methodist Church Sunday.

—Corn is high and very scarce. Oats are $3 per hundred, and hemp is selling at $4.50.

—Was the U. S. O. correspondent "too modest" to tell us she had a handsome new piano?

—We extend our heartfelt congratulations to Mr. O. B. Perkins and his fair bride. May their shadows never cross less.

—I suppose Winter no longer languishes in the lap of Spring, as we heard the croak of the musical Big frog last night.

—L. G. Drake, proprietor of "Hill Home Nursery," says his prospects for a good crop are much better than he at first expected.

—Miss Addie Folger, who returned from North Middletown, in very bad health, is under the superior treatment of Dr. Webb, rapidly improving.

—Who has solved the riddle? Our "Hedge lord" looks quite knowing, but we shall see what we shall see, when Bruce & Co. print the answer.

—Miss Mattie Smith and her music class gave a very delightful entertainment on Saturday night; only a few friends and patrons were invited.

—Capt. J. E. Curley is erecting at Hickman Bridge, a large Sour Mash Distillery, at a cost of $30,000 which will be in running order in a few weeks. Berkeley is shipping corn from Louisville, to distill.

—Jos. C. Bryant bought a few days ago, of James M. Phillips, about 20 acres of land, at $75 per acre. The land is adjoining the property that Mr. Bryant recently purchased of the Tillet heirs in this place.

—The ladies of Pleasant Grove Church organized a Christian Aid Society, April last. They have about 20 members. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Kemper, President; Mrs. T. K. Adams, Vice President; Miss Alice Adams, Treasurer, and Miss Bettie Doore, Sec'y. This little band deserve great credit, for by their untiring efforts. They have accumulated about one hundred and thirty dollars—which they use for church purposes and charities. They met at Mrs. Berkeley's, Saturday, and will meet with Mrs. Frank Folger, next.

—Mrs. John Floyd still continues quite sick. Her husband has returned from Eureka Springs, where he has been for some time for his health. Mrs. James Fish and her interesting family of Crab Orchard, are visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Leavelle. Mr. Geo. Kemper, of Kansas City, Mo., is visiting the home of his childhood. Mr. Jas. Holdam, of Crab Orchard, was visiting relatives near town Sunday. Mr. Willie G. Dunn, of Lancaster, paid a flying visit to friends a few days ago. We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Dunn, and think Stanford has gained quite an acquisition. Your gain is our loss.

MT. VERNON DEPARTMENT.

Sam. M. Burdett, Editor.

—The Rev. G. W. Perryman began a protracted meeting here last night.

—Col. W. O. Bradley, Judge Geo. Denby, of Lancaster, and Col. W. G. Welch and M. C. Stanley, of Stanford, returned home on Sunday. They left this town in wagons to go as far as Crab Orchard.

—We have been having some warm weather for the last few days; the Spring birds are singing, the martins have come, the frosts have begun to melt, and altogether, it looks as if Spring had come in real earnest.

—The trial of Jas. Bishop, A. S. Henderson and Wm. Hysinger, for the Sigman murder, closed last Saturday. It resulted in Bishop being held without bail; A. S. Henderson held in the sum of $1,000 and Wm. Hysinger $500 for their appearance on the first day of the next August term of the Circuit Court. Henderson and Hysinger gave the bonds required, after a great deal of trouble. Samuel Hysinger, David Hysinger, A. J. Henderson, W. O. Bradley and J. K. McClary are their bondsmen. Bishop's attorneys requested that he be sent to Lancaster for safe keeping, whereupon the order was made directing him to be taken to that place. The Sheriff and his deputies started with him on Monday.

A GREAT PUBLIC SALE!

By virtue of a deed of trust executed to me by Col. Isaac Shelby, Jr., and his wife, on the 26th day of April, 1881, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the premises in Lincoln Co., Ky.

ON THURSDAY, MARCH 30th, 1882,

"Crab Orchard Springs"

Property. The place has been famous for 50 years, and needs no puff. The waters are unequalled in purity or virtue. The grounds, beautifully laid out and shaded, embrace 75 acres. The new brick Hotel is one of the finest and most costly in the country. It is only 5 hours by rail from Louisville and Cincinnati, or from Knoxville and Chattanooga. Everything is in readiness for the coming season, and the Hotel could be thrown open at a week's notice to 500 guests.

On one had to there be no doubt. The sale will, in good faith and with absolute certainty, be made on the day announced, and the highest bidder will get the property. Immediate possession and a perfect title are guaranteed the purchaser.

Terms.—One-third of purchase price, cash, the balance in 6 and 12 months, in equal installments, with 6 per cent. from day of sale. Bonds required with approved personal security, and a lien also retained. The purchaser will, however, be permitted to pay off his bonds and the accrued interest at any time before maturity.

Stanford, Ky., March 9, 1882.

MURDER.—About a week ago Bob Woods, a negro blacksmith at Shelby City, beat his wife in a quarrel about her wanting to go to church, and finally struck her a severe lick on the head. Sunday morning the woman died, and a coroner's jury rendered a verdict that her death was caused by the blow. Yesterday afternoon
we learn by telegram, Woods was arrested and taken to jail in Danville.

THERE has been an addition to the P.
G. R.'s at the College. She is not flesh and blood like the others, but dressed up in their best clothes and standing out in the yard, she looked so natural that even Willie Hawker took her for one of the genuines and made it one or two of his best laughs. In fact, it is said, that she has been several times for no other reason than to get a chance to lift his hat to the supposed little beauty.

A LUCKY ESCAPE.—Engineer Soden
tells us that Saturday last as his train was moving pretty lively between Mt. Vernon and Mt. Guthrie, Henry Prewitt, a brakeman, lost his footing and fell from the car in such a position as to have his pants
cut from him by the wheels of the train and yet he received no injury save a bruise
on the shoulder, the result of the fall.

The train was stopped and Prewitt called aboard and went till he met the passenger train, when he returned home on it, resolving that if he is ever killed in a railroad accident, it will not be in the capacity of a brakeman.

CIRCUIT COURT.—At 9:45 A. M. yesterday, Judge M. H. Owsley, appeared on the bench, and inaugurated the Spring Term of his Court. The first business was the calling of the Grand Jury, several of whom were reported sick, and one or two others dismissed on account of ineligibility. The list as completed is as follows: John H.
Miller, S. A. Middleton, Ben. F. Goode, J. C.
Hays, J. M. McRoberts, Jr., J. R. Mc-
Clary, Robt. T. Mattingly, F. M. Yowell, (Foreman), Shelby Skidmore, Jerry Bri-
son, George W. Spangler, S. D. Anderson,
J. F. Drye, Abram Smith, James Paxton,
R. E. Pace. Commonwealth's Attorney, R.
C. Warren, delivered the charge to them in a very forcible and comprehensive manner, dwelling especially on the importance of using every effort to ferret out the miserable assassins of John Shanks and the colored man, John Carr. He touched on all the crimes known to the statute books,
and impressed on the jury the importance of investigating a case as thoroughly
as possible, so as to bring in no indictment that could not be sustained by the proof, as it ran the State to unnecessary expense,
and was a hardship on the man accused.

The following petit jury was then selected:
Larkin Willis, George W. King, J. M.
Hail, John Anderson, Dan Caldwell, Wm.
Perkins, Adam Pence, E. P. Woods, Richard Cobb, John Butt, Liberty Green, Lewis Duddridge, Menefee Elmore, Alex. Traylor, Brent Barnett, G. S. McKinnon, M. B.
Lytle, James D. Bastin, W. B. Hawkins, J. M. Carter, Jr., C. C. Bishop, Sam'l
Flint, Allen Beazley and D. S. Jones.

The case of James Mounce for gaming was filed with leave; as was also that against Isaac Stapleton for unlawfully injuring property.

John Benedict was given ten days in jail and fined $25 for carrying concealed weapons. He did not appear and a forfeiture was taken on his bail bond. There was another case against Benedict, in which he was charged with shooting with intent to kill. In this the Judge fined him $25
to be paid in labor if not reprieved.

M. P. Morgan for giving whisky to minors was fined $50.

The trial of John W. Gooch for the murder of Constable Killian, was set for the 13th day of the term, April 3d, and that of S. B. Conn, for the 8th day, March 28th.

Rob't and L. P. Coffey were fined $20 in three cases for giving a minor liquor.

The case of Gresham and Reed for the killing of Can Rowney, was continued for the defense on account of the absence of some of its witnesses.

County Judge E. W. Brown reported the collection of $18 in fines and taxes on petitions. John Blain, County Clerk, collected $417.50 as follows: Tax on 181
deeds, $90.50; 55 mortgages, $27.50; 7 powers of attorney, $3.50; 47 sales, $23.50; 5
taverns, $250; jacks, $8, and bulls, $19.
Circuit Clerk James P. Bailey reported
$32.50 collected on fines and petitions.

The docket having been called, the Court adjourned at 4 p. m. till this morning at 9 A. M.

A HANDSOME stock of Bird Ogers opened at W. H. Higgins' today.

Geo. PORTMAN caught a cat fish in Green River, Saturday, that measured 29
inches in length.

DEAD.—John Ferrell, who was wounded by Froman Minor, about a month ago,
in the identical manner in which Garfield was, died Sunday. Minor is still at large.

REWARDS.—The Governor has offered a reward of $200 for the apprehension of Froman Minor, charged with shooting
John Ferrell, in this county, and $250
each for the apprehension of John Shanks near Crab Orchard, and John Carr, near this place.

MARRIAGES.

—To-day at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. M. C. Reynolds, near Waynesburg, Mr. W. J. Montgomery will lead to the altar Miss Fannie Reynolds.

—About eighteen months ago Mrs. Kate Mundi sought and obtained a divorce from her husband, Constantine Mundi, on the grounds of drunkenness and cruel treatment. Since then until recently they have been strangers, but the hearts that once
truly loved never forget, so when Constantine renewed his suit and swore that he never would get drunk any more and would treat her oh, so lovingly, Kate willed, so to speak, and fell on his neck and wept. Saturday they sought the aid of County Clerk John Blain, who, there being no legal reason why he should not,
very willingly for the sum of a dollar and a half, issued the necessary papers which,
the reconciled pair, looking as happy as two lovers after a foolish quarrel, took to County Judge Brown and asked him to speak the words that should reunite them until another divorce Court shall separate them. The Judge, who has gotten to be quite an adept in the art of marrying people, but who had never been called on to re-ite a knot that the Court had untied, blushed to the very roots of his hair, but retained presence of mind enough to haul his manuscript of the ceremony out of its dusty place in the pigeon hole, and to read,
the document which was fully a yard long.
Having completed the reading and getting the necessary answers in the affirmative,
the Judge pronounced the twain for the second time one flesh, and they do say he gave the bride a kiss that sounded like the report of a small pistol. (N. B.—The Judge denies the latter statement, and says it is nothing more nor less than a base fabrication of the enemy.) Mr. and Mrs.
Mundi have our sincerest good wishes on their second start in life together, and we join their many friends in trusting that they will never again have to resort to the divorce Courts for relief from each other.

RELIGIOUS.

—The widow of Bishop Marven died at Fredericton, Mo., Friday.

—The number of conversions at the St.
Paul Methodist Church in Cincinnati now reaches 1,000.

—At the Methodist revival now progressing in Harrodsburg, four Maglaines have been converted and turned from their evil ways.

—A Garfield memorial window has been placed in St. James' Episcopal church at Long Branch. The window contains a fine likeness of the late President.

—Mr. J. M. Wray was reinstated as active ruling Elder of the Presbyterian Church Sunday. During his absence he lost his membership here.

—Rev. M. M. Benton has been appointed by the Episcopal bishop to the editorial
charge of the Kentucky Church Chronicle.
Mr. B. was formerly pastor of the Danville Church.

—Mr. Barnes finds the Paris people slow to embrace the offer of healing either for the body or the soul, but we predict
he will yet come out conqueror, and go away with what he calls his best wages.

—At the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church a resolution was adopted condemning all camp meeting associations which agree to receive a rebuke from Sunday trains on the railroads.

—The annual meeting of the American Bible Society was held Sunday in Washington. The receipts for the year in that city were $37,939; expenditures, $37,513.
Of the receipts $104,939 were donations
and legacies.

—The members of the Christian Church were much pleased with Dr. Cox, who preached twice for them on Sunday, and will no doubt call him to be their pastor.
This question is to be decided next Sunday, and if he is called, his first appointment will be on the 1st Lord's Day in April.

—The Democrat says that a permanent Fruit Cure is about to be established in Louisville. Mr. Burghard, the merchant having tendered the use of a brick house with 8 rooms free of rent to the cause. It will be open April 1st, and Mrs. E. A.
Baldwin, who staid at Pink Cottage a long time last summer, will be in charge, with Rev. J. W. Benton and wife, evangelists from Allen county, as second in command.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

—Genuine white seed corn for sale by Thornton Porter.

—J. M. Hail sold to John H. Shanks, 5 1/2-year-old colt for $150.

—F. D. Albright bought of G. A. Lackey, 20 tons of hay, at 45 cts. per hundred.

—Capt. J. M. Higgins sold at auction yesterday a lot of indifferent calves at $7 per head.

—N. W. Frazier bought a fine pair of mules from Eli and Joe Penn for $500.—
[Paris Citizen.]

—Mr. J. M. Hail has lost four sheep, supposed to have died from eating the wheat on which they were turned.

—B. A. & J. T. Tracy sold last week to R. B. Hutchcraft 2,000 bushels of bluegrass seed at 52 cents per bushel.—[Clark Democrat.]

—Geo. W. Alford bought in Danville yesterday a pair of broke mules 1 1/2 hands high, 5 years old for $285. Mr. Green Bright sold one for $135.

—B. W. of this county, has bought about 1,000 lambs at 51 cents, to be delivered on the 1st of June. He has nothing under 60 pounds.—[Jennings Courier,

—Prof. Riley says that the heat and drought of last summer have killed off the Hessian fly, and that immunity from its attacks may be expected for some years to come.

—There are 933 entries for the twenty stakes to be contended for at the annual meetings of the Monmouth Park Association in 1882, which shows that the interest in running races is increasing. The entries of the Saratoga Association aggregate $26, and about 400 cattle offered, mostly of inferior quality, and sold low. Fair brought good prices; common, 2 1/2 to 3 cents; best 4 to 5 cents; horses from $50 to $150. No mules offered. H. T. Bush, auctioneer.

—In his report to the Commissioner, Mr.
J. S. Murphy says that stock never looked better in March than it does at present.
Wheat prospects are fine, and no sign of dys can be discovered. Grass very forward and stock already turned on much of it.
Plowing for corn steadily progressing.
Fruit safe up to date.

—George W. Alford, who has just returned from Montgomery, Ala., tells us that he has bought out his partner in the livery stable business in that city, and is now running it himself. He says that stock is very dull, but that the prospects are good. Mules from 14 to 15 cents high sold while he was there at from $100 to $125.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

Gilbert's Creek.

—The banks of Dix River are in a bad
fix, and they are nearly impassable.

—We appreciate the Semi-Weekly visit of your ever welcome JOURNAL. Success to you and yours.

—Farmers are about done breaking up corn land and are ready to plant. Oats are nearly all sown, and the outlook is promising. Wheat never looked better.
The health of our section is good, and we are all in high spirits.

—Rev. Jasper Livingston preaches at Boon's School-house on every 4th Sunday in each month. The new church edifice in process of erection will be completed as soon as the weather permits, and the members agree upon some small details, there having been some objection as to the size of the doors. The majority of those who subscribed the money for the house are already agreed, and the few objections come from outside parties. When completed the building will be commodious and comfortable.

BOYLE COUNTY.

Danville.

—Mr. T. R. Walton, of the INTERIOR
JOURNAL, was in town today.

—To-day was County Court day. A greater number of cattle than usual were sold, and the prices they brought were good.

—Advices from Shelby city state that the wife of Robert Woods, a negro blacksmith, died on Saturday night from the effects of a brutal beating given her by her husband. A coroner's jury found as above indicated. No other particulars.

—Circuit Court closed on Friday with the conviction of Wm. Richardson for hog stealing, and the sentence of "Major" Prewitt for house breaking. Richardson acknowledged his guilt, and got off with one year in the penitentiary. Prewitt went off for two years, although many disinterested spectators of the trial thought his conviction unwarranted by the evidence.
Both are colored.

—On Saturday night a male child but a few hours old was left on the porch of the residence of Henry Farris on Lexington street. The little fellow was neatly dressed and wrapped up in a clean sheet, but had not received the surgical and other attentions that newly born infants already require. Mr. Farris, happening to think of a colored woman who had a child,
took it to her to nurse, and she is now taking care of it. There is no suspicion as to where the young gentleman hailed from. The wise ones are non-plussed for once, but may, with their usual industry,
solve the mystery after a time.

—It should be a matter of congratula-tion to those respectable individuals in and about Danville, who take so much interest in what other people eat and drink,
that there is every reasonable indication that they "have got Captain Whiskey down."

Why not? The last Boyle county Grand Jury was in session first and last, between three and four weeks, and they did not return a single indictment accusing any one in Danville of unlawfully (?) selling the critter. It may be that none was sold, or that the g. p. paid some attention to the law as given them by the court, and declined to return indictments on insufficient evidence, hearsay evidence, or on suspicion.

—Dr. Addison Harlan is a colored physician, on whom head the snows of many winters have descended. When he does his store-pipe hat, throws his haversack containing "roots and herbs" over his shoulder, and starts out on a "doctoring"
tour, his face wears an expression of medical wisdom that would excite the envy of Esculapian. He has a poor opinion of the attainments of all his white and black brethren in the profession. The other day while the wizard old man was pouring forth a torrent of eloquence in praise of his medicine, Dr. Harlan stood on the opposite corner and glared at him over his left shoulder. Your correspondent happening to pass the Doctor, caught his eye
and remarked: "Wait till the first dark night, boys, and I will go to the woods and catch a few wizards, and I'll show you I can make as good oil as that man. I'm a doctor!"

WAYNE COUNTY.

Monticello.

—Mr. J. E. Vickery entered upon his duties as government Storekeeper, at Miller Bros' distillery, on Beaver Creek, this morning.

—Farmers have got in a good week's
work and are generally done sowing oats.
Considerable progress is already made in breaking corn ground.

—Married, on the evening of the 14th
inst., at the residence of the bride's father,
Mr. William Hurt to Miss Maggie Vick-
er. The ceremony was pronounced by Elder J. J. Shearer.

—H. S. Phillips has just returned from the cities where he has been purchasing his Spring stock of goods. Judge Berry will visit the markets next week, to buy a new stock of goods.

—There has been a great slaughtering of dogs in this vicinity of late, the reduction of rations, in consequence of hard times, caused the aforesaid canines to de-pendate upon the neighboring sheep folds,
and the irate farmers are being avenged.

—An inquest habeas corpus inquired was held in the case of Isaac C. Goddard, of this county, last week. His mind had been

multitude of little curls and flowers, a bright color glowing in her cheeks; now she lay in her short skating suit, looking almost a child in size, her face whiter than the ice and almost as frozen.

bowels, deficiency of bilious secretions, indolence, unsteadiness and weakness of muscular power, leanness of spirits, despondency, heart-flutterings, nervous debility and weakness promptly cured by using Dr. J. C. Owen's Iron Bitters. A true tonic, universally recommended by the medical profession. — (Medical Journal). *

One reason that the ancients were working in museums was the fact that they lacked efficient methods of preserving the various forms of life. It was not until the discovery of alcohol and the manufacture of glass bottles that museums became of importance.

Bric-a-brac is defined "as any thing the crockery line that is absolutely useless, set upon the mantel, where it may be in the way."

Don't snore in church; it is likely keep others awake.

ars. Your work does not look like most factory
 work, but is smoothly finished in wood, iron, painting and trimming. Material used in the famous Huggy Company's buggies has proved to be of the best. They run light, buggies one in this county who have bought your buggies are well pleased; they give the best of satisfaction.

Yours truly,
 Winchester, Ills. E. E. WATT.
